Have You Read Your

FARM-POULTRY

MONTHLY.

This Fine Morning?

And will you kindly loan it to my mistress? She says she wants to find out how to make us old hens pay better, and that pretty quick, too, or off come our heads. So will you?

Naw! Go home and tell her to subscribe for it!

HOW TO KEEP Poultry for Profit

Is the object and teachings of the Best Poultry Magazine published. It costs only 50 cents a year; six months, 25 cents. Cash or stamps. Sample free. Club of 5 names all for $2.00. Address FARM-POULTRY, Box 2118, Boston, Mass.

SPECIAL FOR OUR READERS.—We are authorized to say that the publishers of "Farm-Poultry," advertised above, will send that magazine postpaid for six months on trial, to any reader of this Town Report, upon receipt by them of only 15c in stamps. The CONDITIONS being that this Report is mentioned with every order. As it is a magazine of decided value to all interested in poultry, this offer should merit a large response.

SCHOOL REPORT.

TO THE CITIZENS OF ORFORD:—

We present this report of the schools of Orford feeling that they compare most favorably with the schools of any town of its size in this vicinity in regard to efficiency, number of weeks, and expense attending them; and that the schools of the present year have been the best throughout the town of any year since our acquaintance with the schools of Orford. The summer and fall schools were especially good as to punctuality, interest, and good progress in lines of school work. The winter term in all the schools was much broken up by colds and sickness. The greatest drawback to good schools in Orford is the indifference of the parents and lack of co-operation on their part with the teachers to secure punctuality of pupils. We would most strenuously urge all parents to visit the schools at least once each term and thus show the teachers that you are interested in their work, and if there is any just cause of complaint that you may know it, and know from personal knowledge wherewith you are dissatisfied, and not from heresay.

The work of the teachers and the advance of the scholars has been much promoted by the free text books. The expense of the books to the town has been somewhat greater than was anticipated, but practically we have had to supply every scholar with all books used. Entirely new readers and new arithmetics were put into the schools throughout the town, and second hand geographies of the kind used had to be procured for nearly all who studied that branch.

Trusting the work of the School Board may meet with your approbation, this report is respectfully submitted.

W. R. BARNES, Supt.

The 100 Cents in a Dollar.

The shrewd farmer everywhere seeks fertilizers that will increase his crops and so enlarge his income. He not only demands one hundred cents' worth of plant-food in every dollar's worth of fertilizer that he purchases, but his investment must also pay a handsome dividend in the increased value of his crops. The state chemists report a high valuation on our goods, but the highest valuations that we receive are from the farmers themselves, who have used our goods and who know, therefore, whereof they speak.

plant-foods in the fertilizer.

The thoughtful farmer will notice the state reports do not give the agricultural of the fertilizers, whereas the agricultural value only value which benefits the growing plant, these facts:—

valuation does not tell from what source the of plant-food are derived. For example: it does nitrogen in blood any higher than nitrogen in yet nitrogen in blood is a most valuable plant-food. nitrogen in leather is almost worthless.

valuation does not take into account the proportions of in promoting its growth. This, however, is of vital importance to the plant

The progressive farmer will always purchase the Bradley Fertilizers because they are composed of the best materials, combined in those proportions that experience has shown produce the largest crops. *We will send you on application "Bradley's American Farmer," which will tell you all about our fertilizers, and give you the reasons for their great success.
